400 percale wrappers, which sold for 49c.

The second lot of that purchase of slightly defective French percale wrappers go on sale Monday morning on the second floor. There are just four hundred of them, and if you've been here since we started these wrapper sales you've seen enough to convince you that 400 won't last but a short while. We trust that you will take this as a warning and avoid disappointment.

This lot consists of some exquisite garments. The quality in every one is the finest and heaviest French percale. There are black and white, blue and white and fancy effects. Every garment is lined to the waist-every skirt is full wide with deep hems. Every one is tastefully braided. And why not $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75? For this simple reason—they're slightly imperfect! Not enough to interfere with their wear-not enough to injure their appearance. Some of them have only oil spots—some have slight tears—some have ripped seams—some have faded spots. There are none that cannot be easily fixed, and when fixed will be as good as though

But that's why we bought them for so little and that's why we're selling them for so little, and when you get one for 49 cents you may count yourself fortunate.

$2,$2.50.$3 & $3.50 wrappers,$1.19.

A terrible onslaught has been made on our regular stock of German eiderdown and flannelette wrappers, on the third floor. We've bunched four regular lots at a single price-a price which scarcely covers the cost of many and doesn't nearly so of others. These are the handsomest garments that are made. In the prettiest of Persian and plain effects-every one braid-trimmed-and some trimmed with strips of cashmere. Every one lined to waist and most of them with double and triple ruffles over the shoulders. At $2, $2.50, $3 and $3.50 they're from 50c. to 75c. less than they are to be had elsewhere. At $1.19-well, you can figure the saving as well as we.

Rich's footwear bears the stamp of fashion-folks who want the best that money can buy will wear no other kind.

Unlike the majority of footwear, our styles are not made up in bulk for sale in all parts of the country-but are made for our own exclusive sale in Washington-and can only be found at a few of the most prominent establishments perhaps one store in each of the leading cities.

Comparison will prove that our prices are as reasonable as any-very moderate, indeed, when you consider style and exclusiveness.

Those ladies who wish the correct styles in evening footwear will find us showing the most exclusive and fashionable line of slippers of kid, satin, suede, bronze and patent leather this side of Philadel-

Already in stock we have almost every shade in satin slippers that comes-but in cases where some particular shade to exactly match the gown is demanded we go to the trouble of having the slippers made to order from any sample furnished us. Nothing extra to pay for this-but as it takes a few days to perform the work we must request that orders be sent in advance.

A chance is offered just now to do some economical shoe buying-while we're disposing of the remnants of the winter stock at reduced prices.

Men's fine shoes of patent calf, willow calf and black calf-choice of button or lace styles-which sold at $3.50, $4 and $4.50—have been cut to $2.98.

Ladies' fine shoes of box calf, deerskin, enamel, wine, tan and kid-which sold at $3.50, $4 and $4.50—have been cut still lower, and you may take them now for $2.48 pair.

Gayeties of the Official Season Are Now at Their Highest.

SOCIETY'S CALENDAR FOR NEXT WEEK

Elegant Reception at the Mansion of the Vice President.

PERSONAL NOTES OF INTEREST

The presence in Washington of three presidents-two of today, one of an admin istration past-has been inspiration to elevate the height of the season to a hitherto unreached level, and the week to come promises steady encroachment on history Foreign nations have contributed gener ously to the recent gayeties, for, besides any number of legation dinners, there have been an orientally splendid reception at the Chinese legation to celebrate the birth of the empire's new year. The German ambassador held a reception for German subjects, and later gave a dinner to do honor to the emperor's birthday, and the British embassy entertained at a bal poudre that was quite the smartest, prettiest dance seen for some time at the capital. Mr. Frank Andrews, who led the cotilion at the embassy, is coming in for an extraordinary amount of praise, and so far is his fame spreading owing to the presence on the scene of his success of guests from large cities not far away, that the ablest and most popular leader in New York need trouble for his laurels and feel apprehensive of being supplanted. Of all the attractive women at the dance one hears oftenest the words "chic," "fasci-nating," "grande dame" applied to Miss Simpkins, while Baron Reidl, the stalwart simplifies, while Baron Reidi, the statwart new secretary of the Austro-Hungarian legation, carries off the paim of preference among the men. Not only did Baron Reidl don a pink coat for the occasion, but in distinction from the mainting of the present the mainting of the present of the pre in distinction from the majority of men he were satin knee breeches and silk stockings, with dancing shoes, instead of the conventional trousers of full dress. The favors for the cotilloln included head gear of all nations, from cardinals' hats to French nurse malds' caps, paper-covered hoops, satin reins and whips, a Maypole.

with ribbons; trays filled in imitation of a pastry cook's wares, and many other in-teresting knickknacks. The tea and dance given by Colonel and Mrs. Sumner at Fort Myer was a share of the army's contribution to the week's en-joyment, which covered the cavalry with glory, and temporarily tinged the social atmosphere of gorgeous yellow.

There will be brides this week, not only young and blushing brides, but a "silver" who has drifted happily through y-five years of love; a "golden" bride twenty-five years of love; a "golden" bride who has known fifty years of mutual de-

The vice presidential mansion was aplaze with light, fragrant with flowers and crowded with handsomely gowned women last evening, the occasion being the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Hobart in honor of members of the Senate. The host and hostess received unassisted, standing near the doorway of the first drawing room. Mrs. Hobart wore a French gown of white satin, appliqued with black thread lace and spangled with silver. The white satin bodice was covered with ace and an antique clasp of diamonds and amethyst fastened the revers above a vest of white tulle. Hen jewels were diamonds. Pink roses and delicate green traceries of vines and ferns, with many palms, made up the floral decoration, and the Marine Band furnished music.

The supper room on the first floor was decorated with yellow flowers, the table having yellow shaded candelabra, and the china, glass and silver, all of which are unusually valuable and beautiful, showed with superb effect.

Guests of the Vice President and Mrs. Hobart are Major, and Mrs. William Barbour of New York, Mrs. Sanford of New Hampshire and Dr. and Mrs. Newton of Paterson, N. J. The fifth grand annual ball of the Southern Relief Society, for the benefit of the poor in Washington who come within their supervision and depend upon the association and its friends for relief, will take place Friday. February 11, at National Rifles' Armory. No functions of the kind in the city are more attractive or delightfully conducted, and are consequently looked for expectantly and always largely patronised and thoroughly enjoyable. In addition to the social conditions involved the object is for charitable work of a farreaching and worthy kind. Arrangements are being formulated which will doubtless make it one of the most successful the society has ever given. The list of patronesses and managers will include many of Washington's notable social leaders. The supper will be a special feature and will be furnished and served by a caterer in the large drill hall of the armory. The officers of the association, under whose direct management this entertainment will be given, are: President, Mrs. Ralph Walsh; executive committee—Mrs. S. Sprigg Belt, chairman; Mrs. W. D. CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

Pleasant, Simple, but Safe Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stonach has long been considered he next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bleating sen sation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headache, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played-out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue, and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstingts trouble. The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomech.

To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal diges-tion is secured the catarrhal condition will have one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Disstase, Asoptic Pepsin, a little Nux. Golden Scal and fruit acids.

These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyapepsia Tablets, and, not being a patent medicine, can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher of 2710 Dearborn st., Chicago, Ili., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisoners discharge therefrom, passing backward into the throat, reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach vithout cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have cound flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest prepara-

use."

Sturrt's Dyrpepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient renedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stemach, bilicurness, sour stomach, hearthurn and bloating after meals.
